Tom Grunbeck Joins Advent Aircraft Systems as VP, Marketing and Sales

Tulsa, OK, April 1, 2015— Advent Aircraft Systems, Inc. has named Thomas Grunbeck vice president, marketing and sales.

Grunbeck brings more than 25 years of aviation experience, in sales and marketing, business development, engineering, manufacturing and contracts, to Advent Aircraft Systems. His previous positions include vice president of sales and marketing for Stevens Aviation and Safe Flight Instrument Corporation; vice president and group director for Barnes Aerospace; director of business development and a business unit leader for Goodrich; director of business development for Gulfstream Aerospace Technologies; and an aerodynamic engineer for Grumman.

Grunbeck will report to Ron Roberts, vice president and general manager of Advent Aircraft Systems. "Having Tom Grunbeck is a real asset to Aircraft Systems" said Roberts. "His qualifications in marketing and sales of aircraft components and systems are a great addition to our team."

"We are delighted to have Tom join Aircraft Systems," said Ken Goldsmith, Managing Director. "His proven skills and industry experience are an excellent fit with our growth plans."
